Please answer the following request on separate sheets of paper. Your response should be typed, double-spaced, and not less than 1000 words.

Discuss why you want to obtain a Ph.D. degree in juvenile justice.

As a sample of your writing, please also send a copy of your master's thesis or other lengthy document. Published articles are acceptable alternatives (not newspaper articles).

IMPORTANT!

We must have all of the following before you can be formally considered for the Ph.D. Program:

1. Completed application forms (Doctoral Program form and Graduate School form)

2. Official transcripts of all coursework

3. Official copies of GRE scores

4. Evidence of a conferred master's degree, or of a final year in a graduate program

5. Essay and a copy of your master's thesis (or a lengthy document if the master's program has no thesis). Please note: send a copy of your thesis or other document — we do not return the document.

6. Three letters of recommendation, preferably from professors who know you.

7. TOEFL scores, if a foreign student

And, after the Doctoral Admission Committee has made a favorable determination:

8. An interview with the graduate admissions committee if you receive notification.
