Today's businesses need leaders who can make decisions based on critical thinking, who can express their ideas both verbally and in writing, and who are just as effective working alone as they are on a team. This is what we expect of the graduate business student at Prairie View A&M University.

Effective business communication is a cornerstone of the Master of Business Administration (MBA) degree program in the College of Business.

All programs in the College of Business are fully accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business—the premier accrediting agency for bachelor's degree, master's degree and doctoral degree programs in business administration and accounting.
