Course Goals and Objective: Student teaching is designed a) to provide you with an intense opportunity to practice using the knowledge and skills you bring with you to the experience and b) to cultivate your ability to continually develop more knowledge and skills as you examine your own practices and how effective they are in helping your students to learn and develop into educated people. Along with the field placements, there is a weekly seminar which is designed to provide an opportunity to share information with other student teachers and to reflect upon pertinent issues.

NCATE Standards: By the end of this course, students will:

Candidates preparing to work in schools as teachers or other school professionals know and demonstrate the content knowledge, pedagogical content knowledge and skills, pedagogical and professional knowledge and skills, and professional dispositions necessary to help all students learn. Assessments indicate that candidates meet professional, state, and institutional standards.

Teacher candidates reflect a thorough understanding of the relationship of content and content-specific pedagogy delineated in professional, state, and institutional standards. They have in-depth understanding of the content that they plan to teach and are able to provide multiple explanations and instructional strategies so that all students learn. They present the content to students in challenging, clear, and compelling ways, using real-world contexts and integrating technology appropriately. Candidates in advanced programs for teachers have expertise in pedagogical content knowledge and share their expertise through leadership and mentoring roles in their schools and communities. They understand and address student preconceptions that hinder learning. They are able to critique research and theories related to pedagogy and learning. They are able to select and develop instructional strategies and technologies, based on research and experience, that help all students learn.

Teacher candidates focus on student learning and study the effects of their work. They assess and analyze student learning, make appropriate adjustments to instruction, monitor student learning, and have a positive effect on learning for all students. Candidates in advanced programs for teachers have a thorough understanding of assessment. They analyze student, classroom, and school performance data and make data-driven decisions about strategies for teaching and learning so that all students learn. They collaborate with other professionals to identify and design strategies and interventions that support student learning.

Candidates for other professional school roles critique and are able to reflect on their work within the context of student learning. They establish educational environments that support student learning, collect and analyze data related to student learning, and apply strategies for improving student learning within their own jobs and schools.

Candidates work with students, families, colleagues, and communities in ways that reflect the professional dispositions expected of professional educators as delineated in professional, state, and institutional standards. Candidates demonstrate classroom behaviors that create caring and supportive learning environments and encourage self-directed learning by all students. Candidates recognize when their own professional dispositions may need to be adjusted and are able to develop plans to do so.
E-FOLD-P (Conceptual Framework)
(Educator as Facilitator for Diverse Populations)

• To prepare beginning administrators as problem solvers, critical thinkers, and decision-makers.
• To prepare beginning administrators as facilitators of teacher and student growth and development through understanding of leadership dimensions.
• To provide beginning administrators with an awareness of human diversity and the importance of effective community and parental involvement.
• To prepare beginning administrators to be reflective and continual learners with knowledge and value of self-appraisal techniques and goal setting for a strong personal commitment.
TRUEOUTCOMES

TrueOutcomes is a tool that Prairie View A&M University uses for assessment purposes. At least one of your assignments will be considered an "artifact" (an item of coursework that serves as evidence that course objectives are met) and will be loaded into both ECourses and TrueOutcomes. The assignment(s) to be used as TrueOutcomes artifacts will be identified by your instructor.

Students are required to complete an electronic portfolio (e-portfolio) in order to complete their program. This document can be used for future employment and/or educational endeavors. More information will be provided during the semester, but for general information, you can visit the TrueOutcomes web site at: www.trueoutcomes.net.”

STUDENT TEACHING

The primary goal of the PVAMU-WRG COE Student Teaching Program is to create a culminating experience for Education majors that will bring together a student's experiences as an individual and as a learner so that the student can move into the profession of teaching with the following characteristics:

Being a clear and effective communicator who initiates, receives, interprets, and responds to verbal and nonverbal messages from students, colleagues, and other constituents.

Being a self-directed, reflective, and lifelong learner who evaluates, adapts to, and implements change as a professional educator.

Being a creative and practical problem solver who applies concepts, principles, and skills from all disciplines to address educational challenges.

Being a responsible citizen who models, for students, active participation in the political, social, and economic life of the school, the community, and the world.

Being a collaborative professional who demonstrates skills and behaviors necessary for student success
Requirements:

- Read and use Student Teaching Handbook and required all required readings
- Texas Teacher Educator Code
- Read and use Texas Learning Results: Preface; Terminology; Guiding Principles; and subject Area sections Grades 4-8 and Grades 9-12
- Read and use Standards for Initial Certification
- Successful completion of two eight week placements, including the following:
  - Keep a reflective journal, with at least three significant entries per week, ready for me to see. Comment on experiences and observations that may relate to your professional growth. Entries may serve as a tool for collecting information to be used in completing seminar assignments or to document meeting specific standards.
  - Keep a plan book and assessment/evaluation records ready for me to see (use format of school)
  - Schedule a minimum of 4 observations per placement
  - Complete formal lesson plans for these observations
  - Develop one unit per placement
  - Complete a Teacher Work Sample
  - Attend the ATE Pre-Service Teacher Conference and or Pre-Service experience selected by Dr. Smith.
  - Conduct and write up an observation of another student teacher and a classroom teacher (other than your cooperating teacher) during each placement (Take note of Preparation, Materials, Strategies, Assessment and Classroom Management)
  - Attend Whitlowe R. Green College of Education Job Fair and or HATC Conference.
  - All written assignments are to be typed, proofread, and presented in a professional manner.
  - Participate in two approved selected community service activities.

Attendance:

Your attendance at staff meetings, parent meetings, teacher in-service or workshops, open house, etc. is expected. You are expected to be on time, with all assignments ready, for all seminars. If you are going to be absent from your student teaching assignment due to illness, family emergency, etc., call me at my home by 7:00 am. In addition, be sure to notify your cooperating teacher before school begins and be certain to provide your lesson plans and materials for the cooperating teacher. Excessive absenteeism, whether excused or unexcused, may result in a student’s course grade being reduced or in assignment of a grade of “F”. Absences are accumulated beginning with the first day of placement. All missed days are required to be made up prior to graduation.

University Rules and Procedures

Disability statement (See Student Handbook):
Students with disabilities, including learning disabilities, who wish to request accommodations in class, should register with the Services for Students with Disabilities (SSD) early in the semester so that appropriate arrangements may be made. In accordance with federal laws, a student requesting special accommodations must provide documentation of their disability to the SSD coordinator.

Academic misconduct (See Student Handbook):
You are expected to practice academic honesty in every aspect of this course and all other courses. Make sure you are familiar with your Student Handbook, especially the section on academic misconduct. Students who engage in academic misconduct are subject to university disciplinary procedures.

Forms of academic dishonesty:

Cheating: deception in which a student misrepresents that he/she has mastered information on an academic exercise that he/she has not mastered; giving or receiving aid unauthorized by the instructor on assignments or examinations.

Academic misconduct: tampering with grades or taking part in obtaining or distributing any part of a scheduled test.

Fabrication: use of invented information or falsified research.

Plagiarism: unacknowledged quotation and/or paraphrase of someone else’s words, ideas, or data as one’s own in work submitted for credit. Failure to identify information or essays from the Internet and submitting them as one’s own work also constitutes plagiarism.

Nonacademic misconduct (See Student Handbook)

The university respects the rights of instructors to teach and students to learn. Maintenance of these rights requires campus conditions that do not impede their exercise. Campus behavior that interferes with either (1) the instructor’s ability to conduct the class, (2) the inability of other students to profit from the instructional program, or (3) campus behavior that interferes with the rights of others will not be tolerated. An individual engaging in such disruptive behavior may be subject to disciplinary action. Such incidents will be adjudicated by the Dean of Students under nonacademic procedures.
Sexual misconduct (See Student Handbook):
Sexual harassment of students and employers at Prairie View A&M University is unacceptable and will not be tolerated. Any member of the university community violating this policy will be subject to disciplinary action.

Attendance Policy:
Prairie View A&M University requires regular class attendance. Excessive absences will result in lowered grades. Excessive absenteeism, whether excused or unexcused, may result in a student’s course grade being reduced or in assignment of a grade of “F”. Absences are accumulated beginning with the first day of class.

Student Academic Appeals Process
Authority and responsibility for assigning grades to students rests with the faculty. However, in those instances where students believe that miscommunication, errors, or unfairness of any kind may have adversely affected the instructor's assessment of their academic performance, the student has a right to appeal by the procedure listed in the Undergraduate Catalog and by doing so within thirty days of receiving the grade or experiencing any other problematic academic event that prompted the complaint.
