Course Goals and Overview

Through the ages and across culture, novice in many crafts, arts, and science have sought to expand and cultivate their knowledge by serving as apprentices to seasoned practitioners. Such arrangements allow teaching to be tailored to the needs of the individual, so learning is maximized. The relationships are mutually beneficial and represent a unique method of instruction that contributes to the continuity of the entire field of work. In counseling, the notion of fieldwork is valued as a means of providing students a laboratory in which to practice skills and integrate theoretical concepts. Students function alongside staff members, accessing practical information as they begin to develop their own identity as professionals. The supervisor-intern relationship is at the center of the practicum experience.

Practicum students must become acclimated to the practicum setting. There are rules and regulations to learn, operational policies to digest, and hierarchical matrices to comprehend. Remember that although you may not select the person who will be your supervisor, you can significantly influence the quality and content of the supervision you receive. Before meeting with your supervisor, or very early in the process, think about specific goals that you have for the practicum. Ask your supervisor about the range of activities available for you to explore, and do not be afraid to use some creativity in constructing the learning plan. Many supervisors are busy professionals who will welcome your input. Keep in mind that the entire internship experience is dependent on you taking an active rather than a passive stance as a learner.

Ethical guidelines exist to protect the well-being of client, practitioners, and the professional, as a practicum student, it is incumbent upon you to be well versed in principles established by ACA and within your work setting.

TrueOutcomes:

TrueOutcomes is a tool that Prairie View A&M University uses for assessment purposes. Three of your assignments will be considered an “artifact” (an item of coursework that serves as evidence that course objectives are met) and will be loaded into both WebCT and TrueOutcomes. The assignment(s) to be used as TrueOutcomes artifacts will be identified by your instructor.

Students are required to complete an electronic portfolio (e-portfolio) in order to complete their program. This document can be used for future employment and/or educational endeavors. More information will be provided during the semester, but for general information, you can visit the TrueOutcomes website at www.trueoutcomes.net.

E-FOLD-P

The conceptual framework model, the Educator as Facilitator of Learning for Diverse Population (E-Fold-P), supports the major goals of the teacher education unit. (E-FOLD-P) guides the design and implementation of the teacher education programs located in the College of Education. This conceptual framework constitutes a commitment by the unit to develop and prepared candidates:

- As a problem solvers, critical thinker, and decision maker;
- As reflective and a continual learner who utilize effective teaching practices;
- As facilitators of student growth and development, by precept and examples; and
- As educators with understanding and appreciation of human diversity and global awareness.

E-Fold-P also represents The Unit’s dedication to the preparation of candidates who are technologically literate themselves and who can integrate technology into the learning environments of their students.
OBJECTIVES

The objectives of supervised practicum are to enable the student-counselor to:

1. Gain insight and experience from real “on the job training”
2. Further his/her personal growth under the tutelage of a supervisor.
3. Work with a variety of client and problems
4. Work with other personnel in a collaborative or consultative manner.
5. Further develop and improve the skills needed to function as an effective counselor.

EXPECTATIONS OF STUDENT- COUNSELORS

Each student-counselor is expected to participate in scheduled seminar. The seminar will provide the student-counselor an opportunity to:

1. Share experience, concerns and problems occurring in practicum
2. Review, analyze and evaluate individual/group counseling tapes, reports and related activities.
3. Receive feedback/input concerning work and performance for peers and supervisors.
4. Participate in microskill/training refresher sessions.
5. Function as counselors/client in role-play and simulated interview/counseling sessions.

COMMUNITY COUNSELING

Areas of experience recommended for students in this program include:

1. Exploring the roles of community counselors in a variety of practice settings and relationships between counselors and other professionals in these settings;
2. Learning about organizational, fiscal, and legal dimensions of the institutions and settings in which community counselors practice;
3. Understanding the theories and techniques of conducting a community needs assessment to design, implement, and evaluate community counseling interventions, programs, and systems;
4. Experiencing general principle of community intervention, consultation, education, and outreach; characteristics of human service programs and networks(public, private, and volunteer) in local communities;

SUPERVISOR EVALUATION FORM

This form is designed to give interns the opportunity to provide feedback about the supervision they receive during their internship. This information will be useful in discussing with supervisors and will help your faculty instructor evaluate the learning opportunities at various internship sites.

Each item that follows asks you to indicate the frequency with which activities of supervision occurred, your satisfaction with the activities, or both frequency and satisfaction. Please rate frequency based on percentage from 0 to 100 with 0 meaning that something never happened, and 100 indicating that the activity happened each time there was an opportunity as described in the item. Please rate satisfaction on a rating scale from 0 to 100 with 0 indicating that you were completely dissatisfied and 100 signifying that you were completely satisfied. Frequency and satisfaction rating need not be the same. For example, if you met for fewer than the agreed upon times for supervision, you might rate the frequency at 75 percent. Your satisfaction might be anywhere from 0 to 100 depending on what you felt about this issue. Please try to evaluate each item separately from other items. Space is provided at the end for general comments.

Preliminary Remarks
If you think it will be useful to preface your responses with any introductory comments, please feel free to do so here. Additional space is available at the end of this form for general evaluation comments.
