DEMETRIUS OLIVER
What Makes a Creative Mind Tick?
ARTIST’S LECTURE:
THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 2006
ROOM 108 1:00 PM

Demetrius Oliver is a digital photographer who currently works out of Houston as a resident artist with the Museum of Fine Arts, Houston. He is a graduate of U Penn Philadelphia and currently is based in Houston, TX with Project Row House. Mr. Oliver has been shown at the Studio Museum in Harlem in New York, as well as New York City’s Museum of Modern Art. This Fall Oliver will have a solo exhibition at the Contemporary Arts Museum, Houston. Mr. Oliver will talk about various photographers and contemporary artist who have inspired him as well as his own art. This Thursday, at 1:00 in the John B. Coleman Library, room 109, Mr. Oliver will talk about various photographers and contemporary artist who have inspired him as well as his own work.

For additional information contact Ms. Kelley at 936-261-1523 or ldkelley@pvamu.edu

For the educational and outreach efforts of the John B. Coleman Library and TIPHC, this exhibition was made possible by generous support from The Brown Foundation, Inc.