Online Databases

ACM (Association for Computing Machinery)
The Digital Library and The Guide to Computing Literature sponsored and maintained by Association for Computing Machinery. The Guide is a collection of bibliographic citations and abstracts of works published by ACM and other publishers. Citations for all ACM published works are included in the Guide as a small subset of the total bibliographic space, more than 750,000 citations from 3,000+ publishers. The Digital Library is the full-text repository of papers published by ACM and by other publishers that have co-publishing or co-marketing agreements with ACM.

Computer Source
Provides researchers with the latest information and current trends in high technology. This database offers full text for nearly 300 publications and indexing and abstracts for nearly 450 publications.

Information Science / Technology Abstracts
A leading database in the areas of information science, ISTA indexes journal articles from more than 450 publications plus books, research reports, and conference proceedings and patents.

Internet and Personal Computing Abstracts
(formerly Microcomputer Abstracts)
Provides abstracts and indexing for literature related to personal computing products and developments in business, the Internet, the home, and all other applied areas. Over 400 of the most important trade publications, mainstream computer magazines, and professional journals are covered, including those that focus on specific topics such as Macintosh and Windows platforms, programming, web development and more.

There are other databases which have computer resources: Academic Search Complete, Business Source Complete, Science and Technology Collection, Science Direct, SpringerLink, Cluwer Journals Online, ProQuest Computing, Wiley-InterScience Journals, Business Source Complete, Business Source Premier and others.
