Your paper has multiple sentence structure errors. In your first sentence you have a run-on sentence! You said: "Many often think teaching comes off as an easy profession, but in fact that’s not the case just like any other profession teachers have to work just as hard." I bolded the text at the spot where the run-on happened.

You can't teach students to write when you can't do it correctly yourself! You need to work on this or if it was just hasty writing or a lack of proofreading, address those.
