Course Outcomes/Objectives

The purpose of this course is to introduce candidates to the process of assessing, managing, implementing and revising school and district curricula to ensure coherence in student learning. Candidates will explore the process of analyzing curriculum content, assessing its effectiveness and aligning school and district curricula with state and federal mandates. Particular emphasis will be placed on TEA, NCLB and other mandates, with theoretical and practical applications of the policy and legislative process as they affect local school districts.

To this end, the goals and instructional objectives of this course are:

- To provide candidates with an overview of the theory and complexity of school and district curriculum planning;
- To develop a rich, analytical framework for recognizing the importance of aligning essential curricular activities with school and district performance;
- To understand and interpret data regarding student academic performance and to adjust curricula as required;
- To develop proficiencies in the analysis of district, school and classroom data for the purpose of identifying instructional gaps;
- To prepare candidates for certification as a Texas Principal or Superintendent

Course Content:

- Critical Reading: The readings contained in this course include a variety of articles, chapters and books. There are a wide variety of constructs included in your reading material from educational scholars and practicing teachers and administrators. I encourage you to read interactively as you consider and reconsider the reading material. Be prepared during each class with a set of questions, comments and issues that you identify as you read.

  Focus on the following questions as you engage in your reading:

  What is the author trying to say?
  How has the author constructed the text?
  What is the author’s purpose?
  How do your own values and experiences shape your response to the reading?
  How do the author’s arguments fit within various communities of discourse?

- Analytical Writing: Candidates are required to engage in scholarly writing, with support from your professors. Please remember, analytical writing is a skill that is essential for anyone meeting the requirements of doctoral study (courses, comprehensive examination and dissertation). It is understood that each candidate brings a range of writing strengths. During the course of this semester, it is my objective to facilitate your growth as a scholarly researcher and writer.

- Critical Application/Situational Learning: Candidates will be required to develop a district or school based curriculum design in mathematics, RELA or ELL consistent with the application of human development andragogical theory.
- Enhanced Web-Presence: Every candidate in the course will develop or enhance their web presence showcasing their work in a portfolio designed to communicate your curricular knowledge in a P-12 environment.

Preparing for class

Students will be expected to read several conceptual or empirical journal articles or book chapters per class. Your participation grade for that week will be based on how well you are able to participate in evidence-based discussions and class activities. Preparation for class discussion includes such things as:

- reading for understanding
- being able to summarize the key points
- coming to class with questions, insights, related-experiences or resources to share
- being able to substantiate your assertions or disagreements with evidence from the readings, your experiences, or relevant resources
- having the necessary materials with you or accessible to be an engaged participant
- In addition to these readings and participation in class discussion, you may be asked to respond to a discussion question on the MOODLE course site. These will be short (approximately 200-250 words) reaction papers about the readings. These written responses should be thoughtful and show evidence that you have reflected upon the questions asked and the readings.

Leading Class Discussion – Flipped Assignments

You will work with a partner to lead one class discussion over the course of the semester. Your task will be to draw out key themes from the day’s readings and to develop discussion questions that engage the class in the central relationship between learning and educational technology. This will involve two tasks:

- Presenting how your own set of research questions are connected to, challenged by, informed by or contradictory to, the day’s topic. This means that you will likely want to choose an interesting angle from which to lead the discussion that illustrates the lessons you take from the topic.
- Working with the instructor to design the flow of the day’s class, including discussion of the readings and activities.
Online Classes

Classes conducted online will be conducted asynchronously, unless notified otherwise. We know that students learn differently with some being advantaged in a real-time, face-to-face, dynamic discussion environment. Other students are advantaged in online, asynchronous discussion environments where they can think before they write, visibly (rather than orally) engage with the readings and evolving ideas of their classmates, and pull in a multitude of information-rich, online resources to substantiate their perspectives.

- We will seek to engage in collaborative knowledge building online. To this end, we will practice and evolve the Online Discussion Guidelines available in the course Web site.

- In addition, please set up a Twitter account (http://www.twitter.com) relating to this course content only and practice micro-blogging throughout the course. These “tweets” will serve as a back-channel for our course, which unlike the Angel course site, is not a formal, walled off community but a conduit to informal, spontaneous, abbreviated sharing, social network-building and operates within the larger social, multimedia universe in which we live.

Note: If you have difficulty obtaining any of the needed resources/learning tools, please e-mail me as soon as possible so that I may assist you.

Course Requirements & Evaluation Methods

This course will utilize the following instruments to determine student grades and proficiency of the learning outcomes for the course.

Submission of Assignments:
Assignments may be submitted via Moodle, PV Email, or hand delivered with the exception of Research and Reflective Papers! Research or Reflective Papers MUST be submitted via TURNITIN on Moodle. All designated assignments must be uploaded to Outcomes.

Formatting Documents:
Microsoft Word is the standard word processing tool used at PVAMU. If you’re using other word processors, be sure to use the “save as” tool and save the document in either the Microsoft Word, Rich-Text, or plain text format.

Exam Policy
Exams should be taken as scheduled. No makeup examinations will be allowed except under documented emergencies (See Student Handbook).

Discussion Requirement:
We will participate in conversations about the readings, lectures, materials, and other aspects of the course in a true seminar fashion. We will accomplish this by use of the discussion board.

Candidates are required to log-on to the course website often to participate in discussion. It is strongly advised that you check the discussion area daily to keep abreast of discussions. When a topic is posted, everyone is required to participate.
The exact use of discussion will be determined by the instructor. Please do not submit attachments in the discussion zone of Moodle.

It is strongly suggested that candidates type their discussion postings in a word processing application and save it to their PC or a removable drive before posting to the discussion board. This is important for two reasons: 1) If for some reason your discussion responses are lost in your online course, you will have another copy; 2) Grammatical errors can be greatly minimized by the use of the spell-and-grammar check functions in word processing applications. Once the post(s) have been typed and corrected in the word processing application, it should be copied and pasted to the discussion board.

A rubric for discussion postings is attached.

E-FOLD-P (Conceptual Framework)

(Educator As Facilitator For Diverse Populations)

- To prepare beginning administrators as problem solvers, critical thinkers, and decision-makers.
- To prepare beginning administrators as facilitators of teacher and student growth and development through understanding of leadership dimensions.
- To provide beginning administrators with an awareness of human diversity and the importance of effective community and parental involvement.
- To prepare beginning administrators to be reflective and continual learners with knowledge and value of self-appraisal techniques and goal setting for a strong personal commitment.
Closing the Loop
The Whitlowe R. Green College of Education is the leader of assessment, alignment and accountability. We totally embrace the concept demonstrated in the University’s SACS Reaffirmation – Closing the Loop. All educators should utilize this model when ascertaining what their candidates know, knowledge as to whether or not candidates are capable of facilitating academic understanding through transference and definitively proving that candidates possess the outcomes expressed by the course.
University Rules and Procedures

Disability Statement (See Student Handbook):
Candidates with disabilities, including learning disabilities, who wish to request accommodations in class, should register with the Services for Candidates with Disabilities (SSD) early in the semester so that appropriate arrangements may be made. In accordance with federal laws, a student requesting special accommodations must provide documentation of their disability to the SSD coordinator.

Academic Misconduct (See Student Handbook):
You are expected to practice academic honesty in every aspect of this course and all other courses. Make sure you are familiar with your Student Handbook, especially the section on academic misconduct. Candidates who engage in academic misconduct are subject to university disciplinary procedures.

Forms of Academic Dishonesty:
1. Cheating: deception in which a student misrepresents that he/she has mastered information on an academic exercise that he/she has not mastered; giving or receiving aid unauthorized by the instructor on assignments or examinations.

2. Academic misconduct: tampering with grades or taking part in obtaining or distributing any part of a scheduled test.

3. Fabrication: use of invented information or falsified research.

4. Plagiarism: unacknowledged quotation and/or paraphrase of someone else’s words, ideas, or data as one’s own in work submitted for credit. Failure to identify information or essays from the Internet and submitting them as one’s own work also constitutes plagiarism.

Nonacademic Misconduct (See Student Handbook)
The university respects the rights of instructors to teach and candidates to learn. Maintenance of these rights requires campus conditions that do not impede their exercise. Campus behavior that interferes with either (1) the instructor’s ability to conduct the class, (2) the inability of other candidates to profit from the instructional program, or (3) campus behavior that interferes with the rights of others will not be tolerated. An individual engaging in such disruptive behavior may be subject to disciplinary action. Such incidents will be adjudicated by the Dean of Candidates under nonacademic procedures.

Sexual Misconduct (See Student Handbook):
Sexual harassment of candidates and employers at Prairie View A&M University is unacceptable and will not be tolerated. Any member of the university community violating this policy will be subject to disciplinary action.

Attendance Policy:
Prairie View A&M University requires regular class attendance. Excessive absences will result in lowered grades. Excessive absenteeism, whether excused or unexcused, may result in a student’s course grade being reduced or in assignment of a grade of “F”. Absences are accumulated beginning with the first day of class.

Student Academic Appeals Process
Authority and responsibility for assigning grades to candidates rests with the faculty. However, in those instances where candidates believe that miscommunication, errors, or unfairness of any kind may have adversely affected the instructor’s assessment of their academic performance, the student has a right to appeal by the procedure listed in the Undergraduate Catalog and by doing so within thirty days of receiving the grade or experiencing any other problematic academic event that prompted the complaint.

ETYMOLGY OF “FLIPPED” CLASS PRESENTATIONS

Candidates are expected to participate in several group class presentations using a format known as “flipping”. The flipped method of knowledge acquisition requires that the roles of professor and candidates are reversed for discussion and presentations. It contains elements of the Socratic Method and to a lesser degree, problem based learning.

Flipped presentations are dependent upon candidate cooperation and interaction with your professor. While this may sound similar to a traditional course approach, the differences are distinct. In a flipped course, candidates are required to read the assigned material, forward group questions to your professor and based on your professor’s response, prepare a total class presentation of the material with all candidates participating in the process.

The process, therefore, for completing a flipped assignment and delivering your class presentation is as follows:

- Complete the assigned readings
- Compile a list of questions for forwarding to your professor
- Develop a class presentation based on readings, questions and answers to the questions received from your professor
- Develop a class presentation covering all elements of the class reading material
- Presentations should incorporate these features: embedded video, role-playing, posters, power-point (only as one method of delivering the presentation and not encompassing the entire presentation), the inclusion of a recording of the presentation, as well as other traditional components of instructional delivery

All presentations are expected to be equal to a presentation delivered to a national conference and/or uploaded to YouTube.
Please read, sign and date this form. Thank you in advance for your cooperation.

I have received a copy of the syllabus for this course and I understand that I am responsible for knowing and following the information contained herein.

I further understand that I am responsible for providing my TEA ID number and signing the TEA Acknowledgement of Ethics as a part of state mandated statute.
