Here are the salty facts
Did you know that most of the sodium consumed comes from processed foods, not the saltshaker? Make an effort to reduce sodium (salt) intake, and look for foods high in potassium, which helps counteract some of sodium’s effects on blood pressure. Research shows that keeping sodium intake to less than 2,300 milligrams of sodium (about 1 teaspoon of salt) per day may help reduce the risk of high blood pressure.
Source: U.S.D.A.

Tip of the week brought to you by the
Prairie View A&M University Office of Human Resources
& Blue Cross Blue Shield of Texas