Scholarships for ENERGY RESEARCH

The Center for Energy and Environmental Sustainability (CEES) is offering scholarships to Engineering, Science or Agriculture students interested in pursuing Energy Research!

Energy research at CEES entails fossil fuels, alternate energy sources such as bioenergy, wind energy, and environmental sustainability. This field of study has tremendous potential and high demand for graduates. CEES is very excited to offer scholarships for those that want to pursue Energy Research.

Requirements:

- Must be a U.S. citizen or permanent resident of the U.S.
- Must be an undergraduate student in engineering, science or agriculture
- Must have a GPA of 3.0 or higher
- Must submit CEES scholarship packet
- Must include an essay describing your interest in specific energy topic and how this experience will help to meet your career goals
- Must commit to conduct research for a minimum of 10 hours per week (depending on the awarded scholarship)

Awards: $2500 for the academic year. The scholarships are awarded to the student at the beginning of the semester once they have selected their research topic, identified their advisor to work with and commit to required number of hours per week. NOTE: All awards are contingent upon the availability of funds and are subject to change.

Deadline to Apply is August 31, 2023
For the 2023 Fall Semester

For more information, contact: Margit Beasley (CEES) at (936) 261-1650.
