The H-1B nonimmigrant category can be used to employ a foreign national as a temporary worker in a “specialty occupation”. The law defines specialty occupation as an occupation “that requires the theoretical and practical application of a body of highly specialized knowledge to perform the occupation and requires the completion of a specific course of study culminating in a baccalaureate degree or higher in a specific occupational specialty”. The position offered can be permanent in nature, but the employment relationship with the foreign national must be temporary. The H-1B category can be petitioned for any increment of time up to three years per petition. Maximum time allowed in this category is six years.

The Immigration Act of 1990 radically changed the requirements for obtaining the H-1B. It is very important that you read the following information carefully and follow the instructions as outlined. Do not sign any documents/forms unless you are in total agreement. Any misrepresentation of facts or the employer’s failure to comply with the regulations may result in serious fines and/or penalties.

The applicant must be a professional or otherwise possess highly specialized theoretical and practical knowledge in his/her field. The employee must possess the specific knowledge for the position offered. The minimum entry-level requirement of a bachelor’s or higher degree in a specific occupational specialty is required. The position offered must be one of which the employee possesses qualifications at least matching the minimum requirement.

The position must require a person with the foreign national’s highly specialized qualifications. The U.S. Department of Citizenship and Immigration Services will scrutinize the job duties to determine whether the position requires a professional-level employee. The employer’s stated requirement of a bachelor or higher level degree will not suffice if the generally recognized requirements for that position are below a professional level.

The processing fee for the H-1B petition is currently $325.00 plus Initial petitions will require a Fraud and Detection Fee of $500.00. In order to expedite a request – an additional premium processing fee of $1225.00 is required. Processing fees are considered business related expenses. All fees associated with the H-1B process are the responsibility of the hiring department. The applicant may not assume financial responsibility for the processing of the H-1B request.

Departmental Request for H-1B Petition – Initial or Extension. All documents must be submitted to the Office of Human Resources for review, approval and processing. Documents for academic departments must include the signatures of the Dean and the Provost. All documents requiring the signature of the Provost must be first routed through the Office of Human Resources for review. Submit the H-1B request at least 6 months prior to the requested date of employment. Application packages submitted for processing that are incomplete, require corrections, contain missing information, or whiteout/correction tape will be returned to the requesting department in its entirety.

It is the wage level for the occupation in the area of intended employment. Minimum experience required should be the exact amount of experience required and not a range such as 1 to 3 years. This form must be completely filled out. Form attached.

   The law states that the H-1B nonimmigrant will be paid at least the prevailing wage level for the occupation in the area of intended employment or the actual wage level paid by the employer to all other individuals with similar experience and qualifications for the specific employment – whichever is higher.

   The Department of Labor has stated that it could take up to 60 days to process a prevailing wage request.

   a. List all employees in your department who hold the same job title as the applicant.
   b. Draw a line through any person listed that you do not consider a peer of the H-1B applicant. State specific reasons why they should not be considered as peers. Reasons should relate to experience, education, job responsibilities, publications, as well as, other legitimate business reasons.

8. Employer Labor Condition Statement - Read this form carefully before signing. It is the hiring department’s responsibility to comply with the terms and conditions of the H-1B immigration employment and to notify the Office of Human Resources of any changes. Form attached.

9. You are also aware of the details of the instruments, equipment, methods and other technology employed to conduct the research. Accordingly, you are best suited to complete the attached attestation and provide it to the Office of Human Resources before the institution can petition for the foreign national employee.
Hiring departments are advised not to submit Step 2 documents until notification is received from the Office of Human Resources.

STEP 2 – APPLICATION FEE(s)

Application Fee(s) - The H-1B applicant cannot pay any fees associated with the H-1B process. Processing fees are the responsibility of the hiring department.

Due to the length of time it will take the Department of Labor to provide the University with a prevailing wage determination – do not request your check for filing fees until the Office of Human Resources advises you that a prevailing wage determination has been received and that it meets or exceeds the offered wage.

Request Checks for Application Fees

Complete a purchase requisition for the required amount(s).

Prior to submitting the purchase requisition to the Fiscal Office - The hiring department should notify the Office of Human Resources that the requisition is ready for submission. The Office of Human Resources will provide the hiring department with supporting documents to justify the request. These documents will need to be submitted with the requisition. The documents will include the completed immigration application(s) and the appropriate fee schedule(s).

Checks are made payable to Customs and Immigration Services or Homeland Security. Request a separate check for each fee. Do not combine the check amounts.

Mark the requisition “Ready to Pay” & Hold for “Pick Up”.

Once check(s) are ready and picked up - the hiring department will submit checks to the Office of Human Resources.

EMPLOYER LABOR CONDITION STATEMENT

Hiring Department: _____________________________________________

H-1B Applicant Name: __________________________________________

Job Title of Offered Position: ___________________________________

The U.S. Department of Labor has specific requirements that an organization must meet under the terms of a petition for H-1B status for a nonimmigrant employee. The signature of the designated representative of the Office of Human Resources on the Labor Condition Application denotes a declaration under the penalty of perjury that the information Prairie view A&M University provides is true and correct and that the university will comply with the regulations governing the employment of a foreign national.

The responsibility of compliance with specific terms of a labor condition application resides with the employing department. It is for this reason that the department’s hiring official is required to understand his or her obligations as listed below and sign on the line provided as a declaration of compliance with the regulations with regard to the foreign national employee named above.

DECLARATION OF EMPLOYER

The department will comply with the following regulations during the petition process and during the employment of the above named foreign national under the terms of the petition for H-1B status:

 The department will pay the foreign national at least the salary paid to other Prairie View A&M University employees with similar experience and qualifications in the same occupation or the prevailing wage for the occupation as determined by the U.S. Department of Labor, whichever is higher.

 The employment of an H-1B nonimmigrant will not adversely affect the working conditions of employees similarly employed in the area of intended employment.

 The department has allocated funds for the payment of the foreign national’s salary for the duration of his/her employment under the terms of the petition.

 The department will request that the Office of Human Resources file an amended petition should the terms of employment change during the appointment period of the H-1B.

 The department agrees to pay the reasonable cost of the foreign national’s return trip to his/her country should he/she be terminated before the expiration of the employment period approved by Homeland Security’s Department of Citizenship and Immigration Services.

Any misrepresentation of facts or the employer’s failure to comply with the H-1B regulations may result in the suspension of Prairie View A&M University’s filing of labor condition applications and visa petitions for one year along with penalties and fines.
