Biographical Note:

George Ruble Woolfolk, African American historian and a leading scholar at Prairie View A&M University, was born to Lucien Ben and Theodosia Berry (Jackson) Woolfolk on February 22, 1915, in Louisville, Kentucky.

Woolfolk attended school in Louisville and then earned a Bachelor of Arts degree at Louisville Municipal College for Negroes/University of Louisville (1937), a Master of Arts at Ohio State University (1938), and a Ph.D. at the University of Wisconsin (1947). Woolfolk joined the faculty at Prairie View Normal and Industrial College (now Prairie View A&M University) in 1943, before completing his dissertation and receiving the doctorate in 1947.

Woolfolk's historical research focused on the economic and social facets of southern history and African American studies. His most important books included The Cotton Regency: The Northern Merchants and Reconstruction, 1865–1880 (1958, reprinted in 1979); Negro Colleges, Texas (1962); Prairie View: A Study in Public Conscience, 1878–1946 (1962); and The Free Negro in Texas, 1800–1860: A Study in Cultural Compromise (1976). He also published articles during the 1950s that helped change slavery's historiography by emphasizing its flexibility and profitability.

Woolfolk's inspirational teaching at Prairie View gained recognition from many quarters. One signal award came in 1973 when he was named Minnie Stephens Piper Professor, one of the highest honors that university professors in Texas can earn. In 1992 the American Historical Association gave him its Award for Scholarly Distinction. Woolfolk also became, in the words of a former student, a "community resource," serving, for example, as a member of the Waller County Historical Commission and as vice-chairman of the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission of Texas. His most lasting honor stands in the form of the George Ruble Woolfolk Building on the campus of Prairie View A&M University. The university also named the Woolfolk Lecture Series in his honor.

Woolfolk served on the executive council of the Texas State Historical Association from 1972 until 1981, when he was elected second vice president and thus put in line to become the first African American president of the state's premier historical organization. In March 1982, however, he resigned due to "personal difficulties and health." Later, he agreed to serve the association as an advisory editor for The New Handbook of Texas, and in 1986, he was elected a Fellow, the first African American to receive the highest honor that the association can bestow on a member. Woolfolk's scholarship also earned him listings in the Directory of American Scholars, Who's Who in the South and Southwest, Who's Who in America, Outstanding Educators of America, and Contemporary American Authors.

Woolfolk died on June 12, 1996.

Mrs. Douglass G. (Perry) Woolfolk

Douglass Geraldine Perry was born on Sunday, August 11, 1918, in Coldspring, Texas, to Willie Perry and Edna Rebecca (Williams) Perry, both of whom have preceded her in death. George R. Woolfolk met Douglass G. Perry, a teacher from Coldspring, Texas. Douglass was also preceded in death by her husband, Dr. George Woolfolk; son, George Ruble Woolfolk, Jr.; and brother, Dr. Ervin Perry. She passed away on Tuesday, January 17, 2017.

Biographical Sketch of Dr. Ervin Sewell Perry

Dr. Ervin Sewell Perry is the brother of Mrs. Douglass Woolfolk. Perry graduated from Prairie View A&M College of Texas in 1956 with a Bachelor of Science degree in civil engineering. He received the Master of Science degree from UT Austin in 1961 and the Doctor of Philosophy degree in civil engineering from UT Austin in May 1964, working in areas of materials science and structural mechanics.

Dr. Perry became the first African American to be appointed to the academic rank of professor at the University of Texas.

President Lorene L. Rogers recommended to the UT System Board of Regents that the new Social Science and Humanities Library at the University of Texas at Austin be named Perry-Castaneda Library. By unanimous vote the Board of Regents adopted this proposal at their meeting of September 12, 1975.
