THE HISTORY OF

PRAIRIE VIEW A&M UNIVERSITY

EXCERPTS TAKEN FROM:

“Prairie View, A Study In Public Conscience” by Dr. George Ruble Woolfolk
“A Centennial History of Texas A&M University, 1876-1976 Vol. II” by Henry C. Dethloff, Edited by Frank D. Jackson

1876

PVAMU ESTABLISHMENT

Prairie View A&M University, the first state-supported college in Texas for African Americans, was established during the Reconstruction Period after the Civil War. This was a historical period in which political and economic special interest groups were able to aggressively use the Federal Government to establish public policy in an attempt to “alter or reshape the cultural milieu of the vanquished southern states.” The University had its beginnings in the Texas Constitution of 1876, which, in separate articles, established an “Agricultural and Mechanical College” and pledged that “separate schools shall be provided for the white and colored children, and impartial provisions shall be made for both.” As a consequence of these constitutional provisions, the Fifteenth Legislature established “Alta Vista Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas for Colored Youth” on August 14, 1876.

1878

ENROLLMENT OF THE FIRST STUDENTS

The A&M Board of Directors purchased the lands of the Alta Vista Plantation (1,388 acres) from Mrs. Helen Marr Kirby, the widow of the late Col. Jared Ellison Kirby, for the establishment of the State Agriculture & Mechanical College of Texas for Colored Youth. The College was named “Alta Vista Agriculture & Mechanical College for Colored Youth.” The A&M Board of Directors was authorized to appoint a president of A&M College and Alta Vista College with an assigned principal station at Alta Vista to administer the College’s day-to-day affairs. Confederate President Jefferson Davis recommended Mr. Thomas S. Gathright of Mississippi, and he brought Mr. L.W. Minor of Mississippi to serve as principal. Eight young African American men, the first of their race to enroll in a state-supported college in Texas, began their studies on March 11, 1878.

ERA OF PRINCIPALS AS CHIEF ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICERS

Prairie View strengthened and enlarged its curriculum and grew under the leadership of a series of dedicated principals. These men led the College during those difficult decades as Federal Reconstruction ended and the doctrine of “separate but equal” emerged with the Plessy v. Ferguson Supreme Court decision of 1896. The eight principals and their tenures were: L.W. Minor, 1878; E.H. Anderson, 1879-1884; Laurine C. Anderson, 1884-1894; Edward L. Blackshear, 1895-1915; Isaiah M. Terrell, 1915-1918; J.G. Osborne, 1918-1925; Willette Rutherford Banks, 1926-1947; and Edward B. Evans, 1947-1948.

ERA OF PRESIDENTS AS CHIEF ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICERS

In 1948, as a result of America emerging as the leader of the “Free World” after World War II, President Harry S. Truman ordered the racial integration of the U.S. Armed Forces. The Board of Directors changed the title of the chief administrative officer of the college from principal to president on December 3, 1948. The presidents and their tenures are: Edward B. Evans, 1948-1966; Jesse M. Drew, 1966; Alvin I. Thomas, 1966-1982; Ivory Nelson (interim president), June 1982-January 1983; Percy A. Pierre, 1983-1989; Milton R. Bryant (interim president), June-December 1989; Julius W. Becton, Jr., 1989-1994; Harold S. Bonner (interim president), August-October 1994; Charles A. Hines, 1994-2002; Willie A. Tempton, Sr. (interim president), 2002-2003; George C. Wright, 2003-2017; Ruth J. Simmons, 2017-2023; Michael L. McFrazier (acting president), March-June 2023; Tomikia P. LeGrande, 2023-present.

OUR MISSION

Prairie View A&M University is a state-assisted, public, comprehensive land-grant institution of higher education. The University was designated in a 1984 amendment to the Texas Constitution as an "institution of the first class." It is dedicated to achieving excellence and relevance in teaching, research, and service. It seeks to invest in programs and services that address issues and challenges affecting the diverse ethnic and socioeconomic population of Texas and the larger society, including the global arena.

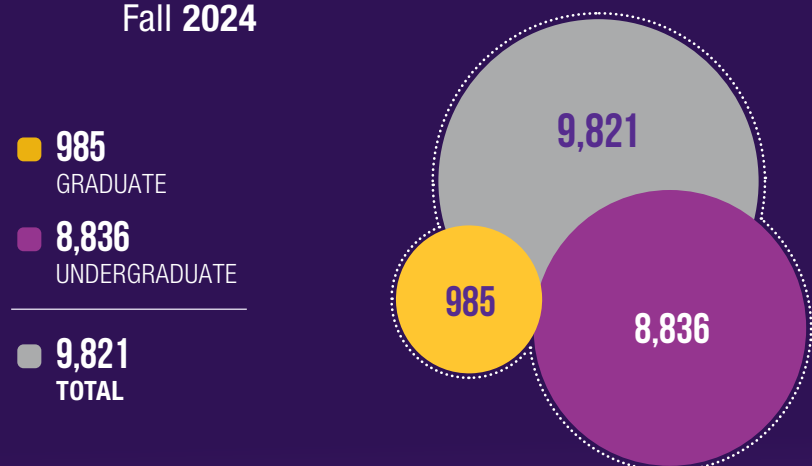

The University seeks to provide a high-quality educational experience for students who, upon completion of bachelor's, master's, or doctoral degrees, possess self-sufficiency and professional competence. The experience is imbued by the institution's values including, but not limited to, access and quality, accountability, diversity, leadership, relevance, and social responsibility.

PRAIRIE VIEW A&M UNIVERSITY IS ACCREDITED BY THE SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION OF COLLEGES AND SCHOOLS COMMISSION ON COLLEGES TO AWARD BACCALAUREATE, MASTER'S, AND DOCTORAL DEGREES.

COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE, FOOD, AND NATURAL RESOURCES

The College of Agriculture, Food, and Natural Resources (CAFNR) is committed to academic excellence, promoting health and wellness, and enhancing economic opportunities through the land-grant tradition of academics, research, extension, and the farm. Through PVAMU Extension, the College is positioned for growth across more than 80 Texas counties, delivering practical, research-driven knowledge to support small-farm producers, entrepreneurs, families, and youth, fostering community development and success.

The College is equipped to provide students with a dynamic learning environment that combines rigorous academic instruction with immersive experiential learning opportunities. Through hands-on projects, real-world applications, internships, and community engagement, students gain practical skills and invaluable insights to complement their classroom education. This multidisciplinary approach ensures that graduates are not only well-versed in theoretical knowledge but also equipped with the experience and confidence to excel as global agricultural leaders.

PVAMU EXTENSION

Established in 1914, the Cooperative Extension Program (now known as PVAMU Extension) was developed as a result of a partnership between the USDA and land-grant universities. PVAMU Extension remains a dependable community asset in counties across Texas, dedicated to enriching and transforming the fabric of communities. PVAMU Extension programs provide cutting-edge, research-based information to support its mission to build resilient families, improve farm sustainability, expand small businesses, and empower young leaders.

AGLETICS

Agtletics, a collaboration between CAFNR and the PVAMU Athletics Department, represents a pioneering effort to integrate agriculture research and nutrition with athletics. Agtletics supports student-athletes through education, experiential learning, and evidence-based nutritional strategies, enhancing their health and performance while advancing academic research and community well-being.
