Course Procedures

Submission of Essays:

All essays and prewriting assignments must be submitted through the course LMS by the deadline posted within the system. If your instructor also requires a hard copy, printed essays are due at the beginning of the class period. Essays will be accepted late for four days after the due date with a deduction of 50% from your essay grade. Late work is, by definition, below average; deadlines are a normal and necessary component of all scholarly and professional work. After four days have passed, your essay will not be accepted, and you will receive a grade of zero on the assignment. Late work will not be accepted with due dates at the end of the semester. Be advised that Turnitin.com checks all submissions for plagiarism against web sources, periodical archives, and other student submissions.

NOTE: All of your work for this course must be original to you and to the course. You cannot submit papers that you or anyone else has submitted for any other course or any other previous or concurrent section of composition. Your writing should be your own, not written by another human or artificial intelligence.

Exam and Quiz Policy:

The midterm and final exams should be taken as scheduled. No makeup exams will be allowed unless there is a documented emergency (see Student Handbook). Your absences need to be cleared by the Dean of Student Office (excused absences take a week to week and half to clear FYI) If you have a university event on the day of the exam, arrange to take it early or have the director send an excused absence prior to your absence. Throughout the semester, pop quizzes over textbook readings and course concepts may be given. If you are late or do not have an excused absence, you cannot make up a quiz. With an excused, documented absence from a legitimate third party, you may make up a quiz at the instructor's convenience.

Attendance

Arrive on time.

You are to attend every class and stay for the entire time we are working and learning.

You are to have your homework and assignments completed and be prepared for projects, papers, presentations.

If you arrive tardy, unprepared, and have unprofessional affect you may be asked to leave for the class, and you will receive an absence as well as your conduct may be communicated to other departments, affecting your grade and standing in the class.

If you have not completed the work, you must attend class.

If you are sent out to complete your work, you must return at the end of the class session to pick up the new homework assignment.

If you are tardy or come to class near the end, you will be credited with a partial attendance.

If you arrive after I've taken attendance, it is your responsibility to notify me after class so I can change your absence to a tardy. I will not debate your attendance at a later grade neither absenteeism nor your points and standing in the class.

You are allowed a total of 6 absences and missing that many classes if you do the work you may well just pass and only pass the class.

Do not skip class or not attend because it will be an issue of passing or not passing and I will not debate your passing or non-passing at the end of semester.

If you are absent, you must contact me or a classmate for directions, assignments, and materials. Contact classmates for a review of the lecture material. Make an appointment with a Writing Center tutor (in the library) to review your work

After the 8th absence, you will receive no credit in the course. After the 6th absence and each successive absence, I will deduct 3 % points off your total grade.

Dean of Student's Office and Excused Absences Note: Plan carefully—busy personal or work schedules are not valid reasons for missing class. You have to clear absences with the Dean of Student's Office, and I will ask you for the excused letter from the Dean's Office. Issues related to cars, court, air travel, family and sickness do not constitute excused absences. It is your responsibility to properly manage your time, your relationships, and your health. Taking accountability and responsibility for your education are choices and professionals do not take a day off because you may need that day later for absences that will be excused through the Dean of Student's Office.

Classroom Preparation and Learning Environment

College assumes maturity, seriousness and professionalism of purpose and self-discipline. Please conduct yourself in a manner that is conducive to classroom learning. Arriving late, leaving during class, griping about the difficulty or a grade of an assignment, socializing during class, interrupting a lecture/discussion to bring up personal matters, neglecting to turn off and put away cell phones are examples of actions that can disrupt the class and will not be tolerated.

This class is a seminar-workshop. It is expected that all students will participate in small group work and class activities. Remember that writing is a form of communication, and communication and learning is a social act. We are here to communicate better, both learn through the tool of writing and through speech, writing, reading and critical thinking. Failure to participate actively in class and work will result in your grade being lowered. Disruptive behavior will not be tolerated and you will be removed from class. Disruptive behavior includes but is not limited to continued willful disobedience and persistent defiance of authority, such as non-participation with class work and homework assignments as well as non-compliance with the class attendance policy.

No audio, video, photos is allowed in class. The only electronics used in class are tablets, laptops and computers utilized for writing, learning and working.

You are expected to actively engage in class work, discussion, work shop, group work and respect all members of the class. Work will be collected for attendance, daily work and assignments for grades every class and graded weekly. Respect all members of the class—in other words, listen when others are speaking and be open to differences of opinion.

Miscellaneous:

- 1) Please do not bring food to eat or drink in the class.
- 2) Please do not start side conversations with a class mate while I am talking or a classmate is talking.
- 3) Derogatory or hateful language will not be tolerated and you will be asked to leave as well as your conduct will be reported to other departments.
- 4) Respect and professionalism will be practiced at all times.

English 1301 Emails

I will be sending weekly emails through our LMS. These missives will contain reminders for deadlines, assignment instructions, exemplars and examples of work to be expected—in essence rubrics for what I expect to be completed. Please check your LMS inbox regularly. You can also ask questions, and give your Professor at least 24-48 hours to respond to a query. I will not send examples or directions to you individually 24 hours within the due date. If you miss class, be sure to request materials in a timely manner. If you miss class, and a handout was given, it is your responsibility to contact a class mate or your Professor.

MLA Format (For all essays written outside of class)

- 1) All essays must be typed, double-spaced, with 1-inch margins, left, right, top and bottom
- 2) Font size should be 12 point
- 3) In the upper left corner: your name, instructor’s name, class, date and assignment as the title
- 4) Number each page in the header with your last name and page numbering function

University Rules and Procedures

Academic Misconduct

Academic dishonesty is defined as any form of cheating or dishonesty that has the effect or intent of interfering with any academic exercise or fair evaluation of a student's performance. The college faculty can provide additional information, particularly related to a specific course, laboratory, or assignment.

You are expected to practice academic honesty in every aspect of this course and all other courses. Make sure you are familiar with the University Administrative Guidelines on Academic Integrity, which can be found on the Academic Integrity webpage. Students who engage in academic misconduct are subject to university disciplinary procedures. As listed in the University Administrative Guidelines on Academic Integrity, the University Online Catalog, and the Student Code of Conduct, the following are examples of prohibited conduct. This list is not designed to be all-inclusive or exhaustive. In addition to academic sanctions, any student found to have committed academic misconduct that is also a violation of criminal law may also be subject to disciplinary review and action by the Office of Student Conduct (as outlined in the Student Code of Conduct).

Forms of Academic Dishonesty:

1. Cheating: Deception in which a student misrepresents that he/she has mastered information on an academic exercise that he/she has not learned, giving or receiving aid unauthorized by the instructor on assignments or examinations. Examples: unauthorized use of notes for a test; using a "cheat sheet" on a quiz or exam; any alteration made on a graded test or exam which is then resubmitted to the teacher;
2. Plagiarism: Careless or deliberate use of the work or the ideas of another; representation of another's work, words, ideas, or data as your own without permission or appropriate acknowledgment. Examples: copying another's paper or answers, failure to identify information or essays from the internet and submitting or representing it as your own; submitting an assignment which has been partially or wholly done by another and claiming it as yours; not properly acknowledging a source which has been summarized or paraphrased in your work; failure to acknowledge the use of another's words with quotation marks;
3. Collusion: When more than one student or person contributes to a piece of work that is submitted as the work of an individual;
4. Conspiracy: Agreeing with one or more persons to commit an act of academic/scholastic dishonesty; and
5. Multiple Submission: Submission of work from one course to satisfy a requirement in another course without explicit permission. Example: using a paper prepared and graded for credit in one course to fulfill a requirement and receive credit in a different course.

The Use of Generative Artificial Intelligence Tools in the Classroom

Generative Artificial Intelligence (GAI), specifically foundational models that can create writing, computer code, and/or images using minimal human prompting, are increasingly becoming pervasive. Even though ChatGPT is one of the most well-known GAI's currently available, this statement includes any and all past, current, and future generations of GAI software. Prairie View A&M University expects that all work produced for a grade in any course, be it face-to-face or virtual, will be the sole product of a student's endeavors to meet those academic goals. However, should an instructor permit their students to use artificial intelligence as a resource or tool, students must not substitute the substance of their original work with the results of using such GAI tools. This clearly violates the University's Administrative Guidelines on Academic Integrity and its underlying academic values.

Nonacademic Misconduct

The university respects the rights of instructors to teach and students to learn. Maintenance of these rights requires campus conditions that do not impede their exercise. Campus behavior that interferes with either (1) the instructor's ability to conduct the class, (2) the ability of other students to profit from the instructional program, or (3) campus behavior that interferes with the rights of others will not be tolerated. An individual engaging in such disruptive behavior may be subject to disciplinary action. The Office of Student Conduct will adjudicate such incidents under nonacademic procedures.

Sexual Misconduct

Sexual harassment of students and employees at Prairie View A&M University is unacceptable and will not be tolerated. Any member of the university community violating the university's sexual harassment policy will be subject to disciplinary action. In accordance with the Texas A&M University System guidelines, your instructor is obligated to report to the Office of Title IX Compliance (titleixteam@pvamu.edu) any instance of sexual misconduct involving a student, which includes sexual assault, stalking, dating violence, domestic violence, and sexual harassment, about which the instructor becomes aware during this course through writing, discussion, or personal disclosure. The faculty and staff of PVAMU actively strive to provide a learning, working, and living environment that promotes respect that is free from sexual misconduct, discrimination, and all forms of violence. If students, faculty, or staff would like assistance or have questions, they may contact the Title IX Coordinator, Dr. Zakiya Brown, at 936-261-2144 or titleixteam@pvamu.edu. More information can be found at Title XI Website, including confidential resources available on campus.

Protections and Accommodations for Pregnant and Parenting Students

The U.S. Department of Education's Office for Civil Rights (OCR) enforces, among other statutes, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972. Title IX protects people from discrimination based on sex, sexual orientation, and gender identity in education programs or activities that receive federal financial assistance. This protection includes those who may be pregnant and parenting. Title IX states: "No person in the United States shall, on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any education program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance." Students seeking accommodations related to pregnancy or parenting should contact the Office of Title IX for information, resources, and support at titleixteam@pvamu.edu. Additional information and/or support may be provided by the Office of Disability Services or the Office of the Dean of Students.

It seeks to establish an environment that is free of bias, discrimination, and harassment. If you experience an incident of discrimination or harassment, we encourage you to report it. Class Attendance Policy (See the University Online Catalog for Full Attendance Policy)

Prairie View A&M University requires regular class attendance. Attending all classes supports the full academic development of each learner, whether classes are taught with the instructor physically present or via distance learning technologies such as interactive video and/or the internet. Excessive absenteeism, whether excused or unexcused, may result in a student's course grade being reduced or in the assignment of a grade of "F." Absences are accumulated beginning with the first day of class during regular semesters and summer terms. Each faculty member will include the University's attendance policy in each course syllabus.

Makeup Work for Legitimate Absences

Prairie View A&M University recognizes that there are a variety of legitimate circumstances in which students will miss coursework and that accommodations for makeup work will be made. If a student's absence is excused, the instructor must either provide the student an opportunity to make up any quiz, exam, or other work contributing to the final grade or provide a satisfactory alternative by a date agreed upon by the student and instructor. Students are encouraged to work with instructors to complete makeup work before known scheduled absences (University-sponsored events, administrative proceedings, etc.). Students are responsible for planning their schedules to avoid excessive conflicts with course requirements.

Absence Verification Process

All non-athletic absences (e.g., Medical, Death/Funeral, Court/Legal-related, etc.) for which a student seeks to obtain a valid excuse must be submitted to the Dean of Students/Office of Student Conduct, with supporting documentation, for review and verification. Please use the Online Reporting Forms to access/complete/submit the Request for a University Excused Absence form for an excuse. Upon receipt, a staff member will verify the documentation and provide an official university excuse, if applicable. The student is responsible for providing the official university excuse issued by the Office for Student Conduct to the professor(s). Questions should be directed to the Dean of Students via email: deanofstudents@pvamu.edu or phone: (936) 261-3550 or Office for Student Conduct via email: studentconduct@pvamu.edu or phone: (936) 261-3524.

Student Academic Appeals Process

Authority and responsibility for assigning grades to students rest with the faculty. However, in those instances where students believe that miscommunication, errors, or unfairness of any kind may have adversely affected the instructor's assessment of their academic performance, the student has a right to appeal by the procedure listed in the University Online Catalog and by doing so within thirty days of receiving the grade or experiencing any other problematic academic event that prompted the complaint.

Netiquette (online etiquette)

Students are expected to participate in all discussions and virtual classroom chats as directed. Students are to be respectful and courteous to others on discussion boards. Foul or abusive language will not be tolerated. Do not use ALL CAPS for communicating to others AS IT CAN BE INTERPRETED AS YELLING. Avoid slang terms such as "wassup?" and texting abbreviations such as "u" instead of "you." Limit and possibly avoid the use of emoticons. Be cautious when using humor or sarcasm as tone is sometimes lost in an email or discussion post, and the message might be taken seriously or sound offensive.

Video Conferencing Etiquette

When using Zoom, WebEx, or other video conferencing tools, confirm the visible area is tidy, clear of background clutter, inappropriate or offensive posters, and other distractions. Ensure you dress appropriately and avoid using high traffic or noisy areas. Stay muted when you are not speaking and avoid eating/drinking during the session. Before the class session begins, test audio, video, and lighting to alleviate technology issues.

Technical Support

Students should go to <https://mypassword.pvamu.edu/> if they have password issues. The page will provide instructions for resetting passwords and contact information if login issues persist. For other technical questions regarding eCourses, call the Center for Instructional Innovation and Technology Services at 936-261-3283 or email ciits@pvamu.edu.

Communication Expectations and Standards

Emails or discussion postings will receive a response from the instructor, usually in less than 48 hours. Urgent emails should be marked as such. Check regularly for responses.

Discussion Requirement

Online courses often require minimal to no face-to-face meetings. However, conversations about the readings, lectures, materials, and other aspects of the course can occur in a seminar fashion. The use of the discussion board will accomplish this. The instructor will determine the exact use of discussion boards.

It is strongly suggested that students type their discussion postings in a word processing application such as Word and save it to their PC or a removable drive before posting to the discussion board. This is important for two reasons: 1) If for some reason your discussion responses are lost in your online course, you will have another copy; 2) Grammatical errors can be greatly minimized by the use of the spell-and-grammar check functions in word processing applications. Once the post(s) have been typed and corrected in the word processing application, copy and paste to the discussion board.

COVID-19 Campus Safety Measures

In accordance with the latest guidelines from the PVAMU Health Services, the following measures are in effect until further notice.

- Students who are ill will be asked to adhere to best practices in public health, such as masking, handwashing, and social distancing, to help reduce the spread of illness across campus.
- Mandatory self-reporting will no longer be required by students. Students will be responsible for communicating with their professors regarding COVID, similarly to any other illness.
- There will be no mandatory isolation. Students who are too ill to engage in classroom activities will be responsible for securing the appropriate documentation to support the absence.
- Students who self-isolate will be responsible for communicating with their professors and securing an excuse from Student Conduct.
- All students will have access to TimelyCare, a telehealth platform that provides virtual medical care 24/7 and by appointment in the Student Health Clinic. Students are encouraged to enroll with TimelyCare at the beginning of the semester, at timelycare.com/pvamu.
- Students will have access to COVID testing in the Student Health Clinic by appointment. Testing is for students who are symptomatic ONLY.
