Course Procedures or Additional Instructor Policies

ACCOUNTING LAB: This is an accounting lab scheduled which is intended to assist on topics you did not understand, answer questions and go over certain problems. Attendance at this lab (or one of the other 2 sections) will be incorporated into the grades for ACCT 2113 as part of your total points earned. The Lab grade is comprised of an Attendance grade, as well as the homework and projects which are covered and worked on during the lab.

CLASSROOM BEHAVIOR: Please refer below to the university and College of Business policies regarding classroom behavior and attendance. In order to succeed in this class it is vital that you attend class regularly and on time. When you are late to class you miss part of the material and disrupt the class environment. Since we have a limited time per class, class will start promptly and the door may be locked after 5 minutes. Please be respectful of your classmates by being polite and courteous in class. Cell Phones may not be used in class for any reason. Turn your phones off or at least put them on Vibrate. If you have an emergency, please step outside. Abuse of this policy may result in being asked to leave the classroom.

Finally, although the College of Business does not enforce a “dress code,” we are all looking to succeed within the business community. To succeed in the business community, you will be expected to dress accordingly. Although business attire is not required, certain minimum standards should be applied. Be proud of what you wear and the impression you make on others. No “Sagging” – it is distracting and is not appropriate for a business environment.

GRADING POLICY: Quizzes will be given on each chapter. ALL CHAPTER EXAMS ARE ONLINE THROUGH McGraw Hill Connect SOFTWARE. Each quiz will be completed outside of class during a specified and limited window of time. Once begun, the exam must be completed within 60 minutes. Since the quizzes will be available to all students through an internet link, Make-Up Quizzes will not be given. The lowest chapter quiz will be dropped. In cases of documented emergencies with timely communication with the professor, a missed quiz may be substituted with the score earned on the comprehensive mid-term or final exam covering the relevant course material. See the class assignment schedule for quiz dates.

The Mid-Term Exam will be given during your normal class period. No Make-ups are allowed. The final exam will be given as a Common Final on the scheduled Common Final Date and Time.

All Homework and Learn-Smart assignments must be completed using the online software. In addition to learning and applying accounting concepts by using this software, the computerized assignments will allow the student to further develop computer skills and get immediate feedback on homework. The software will not allow a student to submit homework “after” the posted due date. In this course, each student must work homework problems to gain a complete understanding of the subject matter.

Each student will also be expected to review and complete problems that will be discussed “in-class”. It is imperative that each student reads an assigned chapter before it is discussed in class. This should allow the student to better understand the material and assist the student in completing in-class problem assignments. Students may be required to research topics related to ethical issues in accounting and business. Students should bring the articles to class for discussion.

Taskstream

Taskstream is a tool that Prairie View A&M University uses for assessment purposes. At least one of your assignments is REQUIRED to be submitted as an “artifact,” an item of coursework that serves as evidence that course objectives are met. More information will be provided during the semester, but for general information, you can visit Taskstream via the link in eCourses.

Among other things, this legislation requires that all students with disabilities be guaranteed a learning environment that provides for reasonable accommodation of their disabilities. If you believe you have a disability requiring an accommodation, please contact Disability Services, in Evans Hall, Room 317, or call 936-261-3585/3.

Academic Misconduct (See Student Handbook):

You are expected to practice academic honesty in every aspect of this course and all other courses. Make sure you are familiar with your Student Handbook, especially the section on academic misconduct. Students who engage in academic misconduct are subject to university disciplinary procedures.

Forms of Academic Dishonesty:

1. Cheating: deception in which a student misrepresents that he/she has mastered information on an academic exercise that he/she has not mastered; giving or receiving aid unauthorized by the instructor on assignments or examinations.

2. Academic misconduct: tampering with grades or taking part in obtaining or distributing any part of a scheduled test.
3. Fabrication: use of invented information or falsified research.
4. Plagiarism: unacknowledged quotation and/or paraphrase of someone else's words, ideas, or data as one's own in work submitted for credit. Failure to identify information or essays from the Internet and submitting them as one's own work also constitutes plagiarism.

Nonacademic Misconduct (See Student Handbook)

The university respects the rights of instructors to teach and students to learn. Maintenance of these rights requires campus conditions that do not impede their exercise. Campus behavior that interferes with either (1) the instructor's ability to conduct the class, (2) the inability of other students to profit from the instructional program, or (3) campus behavior that interferes with the rights of others will not be tolerated. An individual engaging in such disruptive behavior may be subject to disciplinary action. Such incidents will be adjudicated by the Dean of Students under nonacademic procedures.

Sexual Misconduct (See Student Handbook):

Sexual harassment of students and employers at Prairie View A&M University is unacceptable and will not be tolerated. Any member of the university community violating this policy will be subject to disciplinary action.

Title IX Statement

Prairie View A&M University (PVAMU) is committed to supporting students and complying with the Texas A&M University System non-discrimination policy. It seeks to establish an environment that is free of bias, discrimination, and harassment. If you experience an incident of sex- or gender-based discrimination, including sexual harassment, sexual assault or attempted sexual assault, we encourage you to report it. While you may talk to a faculty member about an incident of misconduct, the faculty member must report the basic facts of your experience to Ms. Alexia Taylor, PVAMU's Title IX Coordinator. If you would like to speak with someone who may be able to afford you privacy or confidentiality, there are individuals who can meet with you. The Title IX Coordinator is designated to handle inquiries regarding non-discrimination policies and can assist you with understanding your options and connect you with on- and off-campus resources. The Title IX Coordinator can be reached by phone at 936-261-2123 or in Suite 013 in the A.I. Thomas Administration Building.

Class Attendance Policy (See Catalog for Full Attendance Policy)

Prairie View A&M University requires regular class attendance. Attending all classes supports full academic development of each learner whether classes are taught with the instructor physically present or via distance learning technologies such as interactive video and/or internet.

Excessive absenteeism, whether excused or unexcused, may result in a student's course grade being reduced or in assignment of a grade of "F". Absences are accumulated beginning with the first day of class during regular semesters and summer terms. Each faculty member will include the University's attendance policy in each course syllabus.

Student Academic Appeals Process

Authority and responsibility for assigning grades to students rests with the faculty. However, in those instances where students believe that miscommunication, errors, or unfairness of any kind may have adversely affected the instructor's assessment of their academic performance, the student has a right to appeal by the procedure listed in the Undergraduate Catalog and by doing so within thirty days of receiving the grade or experiencing any other problematic academic event that prompted the complaint.

Communication Expectations and Standards:

Emails or discussion postings will receive a response from the instructor, usually in less than 48 hours. Urgent emails should be marked as such. Check regularly for responses.

Discussion Requirement:

Online courses often require minimal to no face-to-face meetings. However, conversations about the readings, lectures, materials, and other aspects of the course can take place in a seminar fashion. This will be accomplished by the use of the discussion board. The exact use of discussion will be determined by the instructor.

It is strongly suggested that students type their discussion postings in a word processing application and save it to their PC or a removable drive before posting to the discussion board. This is important for two reasons: 1) If for some reason your discussion responses are lost in your online course, you will have another copy; 2) Grammatical errors can be greatly minimized by the use of the spell-and-grammar check functions in word processing applications. Once the post(s) have been typed and corrected in the word processing application, it/they should be copied and pasted to the discussion board.

Tests are based primarily on the Text Book, but materials discussed in the class may also be included

The content and dates listed in this syllabus are subject to change depending on circumstances during the semester.
