

Accreditation

The Construction Science program of Prairie View A&M University is currently being reviewed for accreditation by the American Council for Construction Education (ACCE).

Note: the current ACCE accreditation process is solely for the Bachelor of Science in Construction Science degree and does NOT include the double-degree program yet. However, it's the department's plan to proceed with the double-degree accreditation with ACCE in near future.

"The ACCE is a global advocate of quality construction education programs and promotes, supports, and accredits quality education programs. ACCE is recognized by the Council for Higher Education (CHEA) as the accrediting agency for four-year baccalaureate degree programs in construction, construction science, construction management, and construction technology."
