“Separate and Unequal: The Role of Judge Louis A. Bedford, Jr. in the Dallas Civil Rights Movement”

April 17, 2015
9:00 AM – Noon
Don K. Clark Building

Hosted by the
College of Juvenile Justice & Psychology
Texas Juvenile Crime Prevention Center
PRAIRIE VIEW A&M UNIVERSITY

The annual Royce West Forum and Lecture Series is designed to increase the knowledge and skills of our students in psychology and criminal/juvenile justice, as well as provide juvenile justice and social service practitioners with information regarding the reduction of juvenile delinquency and crime and related social problems.

This year’s program will feature a keynote address by Dr. W. Marvin Dulaney, a History professor at UT Arlington and expert on Texas history. We will also name the College of Juvenile Justice and Psychology courtroom in honor of Judge Louis A. Bedford Jr., a productive panther and stalwart of the Dallas civil rights movement.