Viewers from around the world tuned in to watch the online recognition of the Class of Spring 2020.

PRAIRIE VIEW, Texas – Saturday's online program to honor graduates from Prairie View A&M University proved not only to be a safe alternative but a big draw for family and friends of the Class of Spring 2020.

PVAMU streamed the virtual program across three digital platforms, and more than 25,000 guests were online to celebrate their favorite graduating Panthers.

PVAMU President Ruth J. Simmons applauded the 870 graduates for their resilience in being able to pivot during the pandemic and still achieve their academic milestone.

"The fact that you are celebrating your graduation is a testament to your determination, flexibility, and adaptability. These are qualities that you have honed over the past several weeks and, believe me, they will take you far in life as you face both obstacles and opportunities," President Simmons shared.
