

PVAMU HIGHLIGHTS HISTORICAL LEGACY AND ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

Prairie View A&M University's Founders' Day and Honors Recognition Convocation celebrates founding of the University and outstanding scholarly achievements.

PRAIRIE VIEW, Texas (March 8, 2024) – Prairie View A&M University will present its Founders' Day and Honors Recognition Convocation on March 20, 2024. It's a time for faculty, staff, students, and guests to commemorate the established legacy of its founders and recognize the exemplary achievements of its honors students.

LaTonya M. Goffney, superintendent of the Aldine Independent School District, whose distinguished career as an educator exemplifies academic excellence, will serve as the event's keynote speaker.

More than 5,500 students will be recognized for their academic achievement in 2023. Students on the Dean's Honors list earned a 3.0-3.49 GPA, while those who earned a 3.5-4.0 GPA are named to the University Honor Roll list.

Dr. Michael L. McFrazier, Interim Provost and Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs, says the occasion is also an opportunity to reflect with reverence on the memory of the first eight students enrolled at the University. "We must not forget the Unknown 8 who exemplified courage under fire to chart a new path for all of us to follow. With their brave actions, our today is possible, and we can receive an education that promotes change agents."
