Students to complete semester online; Spring 2020 graduation rescheduled for August.

PRAIRIE VIEW, Texas – Due to the coronavirus pandemic, Prairie View A&M University has notified all students, faculty, and staff all face-to-face classes have ended and moved exclusively to an online class format for the rest of the spring semester beginning on Monday, March 23, 2020.

Student housing will remain open, food service will continue, and the campus will continue to follow the university's social distancing guidelines of limiting gatherings to 10 people or less.

As for the Spring 2020 Commencement scheduled for May 9, 2020, it has been postponed. Degrees will not be affected by the postponement and will be packaged and mailed as scheduled. However, the spring ceremony will be merged with the summer graduation ceremony in August.

The University will continue to provide official updates from the Texas A&M University System and PVAMU administration on its website, official social media channels, and campus announcements.
