Academic Experience

- Rearranging classrooms, labs, offices, and common spaces to accommodate CDC guidance
- Reducing and redirecting accessibility to classrooms, offices and public spaces
- Monitoring of halls, entry and exiting
- Holding slightly longer time between classes
- Reserving time during the day for additional cleaning
- Working to record and place class lecturers/interaction on eCourses
- Interacting with faculty virtually but F2F by appointment
- Rotating large hybrid courses to have a rotation

Academic Experience, Continued

- What academic support is there for my fall experience:
  - Increased graduate assistant support in some areas
  - New / additional instructors
  - Continued Pass/No Pass (P/NP) options
  - Six Laptop Kiosks across campus with 180 computers for checkout
  - Additional Chromebooks for long-term checkout
  - Virtual Desktop Support for access to software
  - New eCourses (Canvas) with Zoom integration
  - Expanded video recording / streaming in 150 classrooms
  - Working toward electronic attendance reporting (Contact Tracing)
  - Online and F2F tutoring support
  - Scheduled Faculty Office Hours Virtually on different days

Definitions: F2F, Online, Hybrid

- F2F: A course taught in the traditional face-to-face format.
- Online:
  - Synchronous – A course taught online that happens in real-time. The student and instructor are online virtually at the same time.
  - Asynchronous – A course taught online that is not in real-time. The student and instructor are not online at the same time.
- Hybrid: A course that is a combination of online and face-to-face instruction. A hybrid course at PVAMU has a minimum of 51% of the course taught face-to-face and a maximum of 49% of the course taught online.
- What do my selections mean for tuition and fees?
  - Students enrolled in only online courses will have the following fees waived: Student Health Fee, Student Center Complex Fee, Athletic Fee and the Recreational Fee.
  - Regular tuition and fees will apply for all other courses.
