

Practical Strategies for Teaching Self-Regulation, Social Skills, and Instructional Consequences to Adolescents with Autism Spectrum Disorders

Overview

This research-based live webinar will help you teach or treat students on the autism spectrum who may have trouble getting along with others, recognizing inappropriate behaviors, how to appropriately interact with peers and adults, have a hard time starting and finishing work, asking for help, difficulty with transitions, display anxiety that interferes with their ability to focus, and addressing social skills which start with communication skills.

Refreshments served!

Monday, October 22, 2018.

Duration: 6hrs

Time: 10 am

WR.R. Banks Room 305

For further information, contact :

Dr. Laurette Foster
Director of the Center for Teaching Excellence @ (936)-261-1973 or
lbfooster@pvamu.edu

Dr. Kay Norman
Director of Disability Services
@ (936)-261-3582 or
kfnorman@pvamu.edu

Sponsored by:
The Center for Teaching Excellence
and
Disability Services

