HISTORICAL STATEMENT

Revised – May, 2001

Prairie View A&M University is a member of the Texas A&M University System. Other parts of the System are Texas A&M University at College Station with a Galveston campus as part of the College of Geoscience and Maritime Studies, Texas A&M University - Corpus Christi, Texas A&M International University, Texas A&M University - Kingsville, West Texas A&M University, Tarleton State University, Texas A&M University - Commerce, Texas A&M University - Texarkana, Baylor College of Dentistry, the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas Engineering Experiment Station, the Texas Engineering Extension Service, the Texas Animal Damage Control Service, the Texas Forest Service, the Texas Transportation Institute, and the Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratory.

Prairie View A&M University, the second oldest public institution of higher education in Texas, originated in the Texas Constitution of 1876. Having already established the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas (later to be named Texas A&M University) in 1871, legislators pledged in the Texas Constitution of 1876 that "separate schools shall be provided for the white and colored children, and impartial provisions shall be made for both." On August 14, 1876, the Texas Legislature established the "Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas for Colored Youths" and placed responsibility for its management with the Board of Directors of the Agricultural and Mechanical College at Bryan. The A&M College of Texas for Colored Youths opened at Prairie View, Texas on March 11, 1878.

The University's original curriculum was designated by the Texas Legislature in 1879 to be that of a "Normal School" for the "preparation and training of colored teachers." This curriculum was expanded to include the arts and sciences, home economics, agriculture, mechanical arts, and nursing after the University was established as a branch of the Agricultural Experiment Station (Hatch Act, 1887) and as a Land Grant College (Morrill Act, 1890). Thus began the tradition of agricultural research and community service which still continues today.

In 1919, the four-year senior college program was begun and, in 1937, a division of graduate studies was added, offering master's degrees in agricultural economics, rural education, agricultural education, school administration and supervision, and rural sociology.

In 1945, the name of the institution was changed from Prairie View Normal and Industrial College to Prairie View University, and the school was authorized to offer, "as need arises," all courses offered at the University of Texas. In 1947, the Texas Legislature changed the name to Prairie View A&M College of Texas and provided that "courses be offered in agriculture, the mechanics arts, engineering, and the natural sciences connected therewith, together with any other courses authorized at Prairie View at the time of passage of this act, all of which shall be equivalent to those offered at the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas at Bryan." On August 27, 1973, the name of the institution was changed to Prairie View A&M University, and its status as an independent unit of the Texas A&M University System was confirmed.

In 1981, the Texas Legislature acknowledged the University's rich tradition of service and identified various statewide needs which the University should address including the assistance of students of diverse ethnic and socioeconomic backgrounds to realize their full potential, and assistance of small and medium-sized communities and businesses in their growth and development.

In 1983, the Texas Legislature proposed a constitutional amendment to restructure the Permanent University Fund to include Prairie View A&M University as a beneficiary of its proceeds. The Permanent University Fund is a perpetual endowment fund originally established in the Constitution of 1876 for the sole benefit of Texas A&M University and the University of Texas. The 1983 amendment also dedicated the University to enhancement as an "institution of the first class" under the governing board of the Texas A&M University System. The constitutional amendment was approved by the voters on November 6, 1984.

In January 1985, the Board of Regents of the Texas A&M University System responded to the 1984 Constitutional Amendment by stating its intention that Prairie View A&M University become "an institution nationally recognized in its areas of education and research." The Board also resolved that the University receive its share of the Available University Fund, as previously agreed to by Texas A&M University and the University of Texas.

The University's enrollment now (Fall, 2002) exceeds 7,200 including over 1,400 graduate students. Students come from throughout the United States as well as many foreign countries. Over 5,500 academic degrees have been awarded in the last five years, including over 2,000 graduate degrees.

May 2003

Highlights from the Following Data

Enrollment Data

- Blacks constitute 92% of the undergraduate enrollment, but only 79% of the Master's level enrollment. (pp. 7-8)
- Enrollment has slowly been increasing, in general. Of the 7,255 students in Fall 2002, 94% are classified as in-state students. Out-of-state enrollment and International enrollment is slowly declining. (p. 12)
- The major feeder high schools for Prairie View A&M University in Fall 2002 were Eisenhower (Houston), Forest Brook (Houston), and Ozen (Beaumont) respectively. (p. 18)

Semester Credit Hours

- The ratio of undergraduate semester credit hours to graduate semester credit hours (9:1) has remained fairly constant over the past six fall semesters. (p. 19)
- Courses taught at the Prairie View A&M Nursing Center are now considered "off-campus", causing a considerable increase in off-campus semester credit hours for the past three years. (p. 20)
- Forty-six percent of the university's total credit hours are generated by the College of Arts and Sciences while assistant professors generate more credit hours than associate and full professors combined. (p. 21)

Degree Programs and Degrees Awarded

- The first-ever doctoral program at Prairie View A&M is now offered by the School of Juvenile Justice and Psychology – a Ph.D. in Juvenile Justice. Other doctoral programs in Engineering and Education will be forth coming as a part of the Office of Civil Rights settlement. (p. 32)
- Females constitute 61% of undergraduate degrees received, and 75% of graduate degrees received. The female enrollments, as well as degrees granted, exceeds males. (p. 33)
- Total degrees granted have remained fairly stable (1,110 in 1997-1998; 1,163 in 2001-2002) (p. 33), while enrollment have increased by about 1200 students during the same period. (p. 6)

Faculty Data

- The percentage of tenured faculty is fairly stable (28%), while the percentage of faculty on tenure track has increased. Total faculty headcount has increased from 357 (1999) to 410 (2002), or 53 positions from 1997 to 2002. (p. 46)
- Blacks constitute 62% of the Prairie View faculty followed by whites at 21% and Asians/Pacific Islanders at 13%. (p. 50) The number of black faculty is slowly decreasing.
- 73% of the tenured faculty members are male and 27% are female. (p. 52) The number of tenured female faculty members is slowly declining. In contrast females make up 59% of the total enrollment over twice the percentage of tenured female faculty. (p. 2)
- In general, faculty salaries at Prairie View A&M University have not been competitive with other campuses in the Texas A&M University System. Efforts were made in Fall 2002 to provide greater parity through merit and equity salary increases through the addition of approximately $800,000 to faculty salaries. (p. 57)

Fiscal Data

- The University's 2000-2001 revenues and transfers reached $114,703,588, with more than one-third ($58,464,310) coming from state appropriations. (p. 58)
- Total endowment funds have declined for three straight years, primarily due to market forces. (p. 62)

Employee Data

- Professional non-faculty employees account for 46% of all non-faculty positions at Prairie View A&M and secretarial/clerical employees make up 19% of the total. (p. 65) The number of professional employees is increasing rapidly, while the number of secretarial employees and executive administrative managerial is declining.
- 42% of all non-faculty employees are male and 58% are female. Male numbers are declining and female numbers are increasing. (p. 66)

Financial Aid Data

- As of Fall 2002, 84% of Prairie View A&M undergraduate students were receiving some form of financial aid, compared to 16% of the graduate students. (p. 19)
- Grants constitute 62% of all financial aid, followed by scholarships at 24%. (p. 73)
- Prairie View students received $24,806,574 in financial aid in 2002-2003, up for the sixth straight year, but financial aid borrower indebtedness totaled $20,484,950 million dollars in 2002-2003, with the average debt per borrower being $9,635. (pp. 71-74)

Student Housing Data

- For Fall 2002, 42% of all Prairie View A&M students lived on campus, a smaller percentage than any time since 1996. As enrollments increase faster than housing availability, more students live off campus or commute. (p. 73)
- The University College, added in Fall 2002, accounts for 40% of on-campus residency. (p. 77)
- University housing had a 98% occupancy rate in Fall 2001. (p. 78)

Library

- Total Library holdings of all types reached 1,029,587 in 2001-2002. (p. 79)
