RE: Funding Announcement: Research & Innovation for Scholarly Excellence (RISE) for GRADUATE RESEARCH Grant Program.
Online Applications Due: August 08, 2022

As PVAMU has recently become one of the only 11 HBCUs in the nation with an R2 Carnegie classification of high research activity, the Division of Research & Innovation (R&I) is committed to sustaining that status and further enhancing the university's research and innovation enterprise to higher milestones, such as becoming a Texas Emerging Research Institution, in the near future. As we prepare to welcome the faculty, staff, and students, present and new, to the campus for the academic year, Fall 2022-Spring 2023, we are delighted to continue the Faculty-RISE (R&I for Scholarly Excellence) Graduate Research Grant Program.

The Faculty RISE-Graduate Research Grant Program supports faculty-mentored graduate students' research and innovation activities. The program enables faculty researchers to expand and sustain their research through external grants and contracts while mentoring graduate students to become the next generation of experts.

For Fall 2022 and Spring 2023, the Faculty RISE-Graduate Research Grant Program will provide each successful applicant $18,000 per academic year ($2,000 per month) to support a doctoral student or $14,400 per academic year ($1,600 per month) to support a Master's student involved in research or innovation projects. While this grant program is open to faculty and staff researchers at all levels from all disciplines, tenure-track Assistant Professors will be given preference.
