Written Assignments

Weekly Paper Submissions and Presentations
Throughout the semester, students will research, write and edit their final master’s research paper to usher students towards the completion of their culminating program performance-based assessment. Students occasionally will present and verbally defend their research to the class in tandem to submitting their weekly paper revisions. Presentations serve to offer feedback and recommendations to students from their peers and instructor. To guide and streamline recommendations, the class will read chapters from the course textbook and focus on various components of the master’s research paper.

Final Paper
By the end of the semester, students will submit their final master’s research paper showcasing their research and writing abilities. Students’ final master’s paper must be an original research paper. There is no minimum or maximum page numbers for the final master’s paper. The essay should be a Microsoft document using one (1) inch margins with Times New Roman font. All essays must have a standard cover page (without designs) and a bibliography. Students should note that their final master’s paper should have a research question or thesis, relevant literature related to the topic, a solid research design structured to perform the study or analysis, data that answers the research question or thesis, and a strong analysis of the topic that explicates the findings through a written discussion and a conclusion. Original essays must be submitted to the TurnItIn link through Canvas.

The final master’s paper will assess students’ ability to demonstrate, at least at the proficiency level, all of the program learning objectives and outcomes. Students are expected to write critically, coherently, and with minimal grammatical errors. Exemplar essays require that students demonstrate their recollection and understanding of the information presented throughout the master's program.

Beyond measuring a student’s ability to demonstrate proficiency of the program learning objectives and outcomes, the final master’s paper serves to build upon students’ research, critical thinking and written communication skills.

Assignment Guidelines for the Final Essay
Detailed below are components required for all writing assignments beyond the writing rubric.

Cover Page
A cover page is required for essays in the course. In-text citations are also required as it allows students to practice the proper use of referencing primary and secondary sources. While footnotes are the preferred in-text citation for the discipline of history, this assignment also allows in-text parentheticals – a practice commonly used in other academic disciplines. For further details about how to properly use footnotes or in-text parenthetical citations, refer to the Chicago Manual of Style (CMOS) available online through Purdue Owl. The link for the CMOS is under the Assignment Guidelines section in Canvas.

Bibliography
A bibliography is required for all written assignments, but the words used for the bibliography should not be considered as part of a student's minimum or maximum word-count as required for this assignments' guidelines. Reference to all the aforementioned documents and links pertaining to this assignment's guidelines are available under the Assignment Guidelines section in Canvas. Failure to adhere to the assignment guidelines will result in a zero. Plagiarism, including the use of SpinBot, for any written assignment in the course will result in failure of the assignment, and potentially failure of the course. An additional consequence may result in a report to the appropriate office for academic misconduct. Please do not plagiarize. For more information about plagiarism, please refer to the plagiarism PPT and the university link located in Canvas.

Direct Quotes
Direct quotations should be limited for the final master’s paper. Students should largely reference the sources, but only include direct text in their paper when absolutely necessary. Students are being evaluated for their critical analysis of the text, not their ability to reference the text.
Here is an example of a direct quote: In Obergefell v. Hodges (2015), Justice Kennedy’s opinion of the court stated, "… In assessing whether the force and rationale of its cases apply to same-sex couples, the Court must respect the basic reasons why the right to marry has been long protected… This analysis compels the conclusion that same-sex couples may exercise the right to marry …"

Grading Guidelines
Students must analyze and evaluate either a primary or secondary source, or both, and individually reply to the essay prompt based upon the rubric embedded in the syllabus. Late assignments are not accepted and automatically constitutes a zero. All written assignments are due in Canvas by 11:59 PM of the due date.

Turn-It-In Similarity Report: All uploaded essays to the Turn-It-In database should have a low similarity report since this assignment requires students to illustrate their individual voices when analyzing and interpreting various historical topics. Papers should not exceed a fifteen percent (15%) similarity report. This requirement excludes the bibliography. If an essay exceeds the fifteen percent (15%) similarity report but falls below a twenty-four percent (24%) similarity report, then the essay will receive a forty (40) for the assignment. Any paper that yields a twenty-five percent (25%) similarity report or higher will receive a zero for the assignment.

Students have an opportunity to check their similarity report for their papers if submitted far enough before the assignment deadline. Students have a total of three submissions to the Turn-It-In link as long as the submission occurs before the assignment deadline. Students should use this feature set by the instructor to avoid a penalty for submitting a paper with a high similarity report. There are two videos located under the Additional Resources section showing students how to complete this task.

Group Learning
Working together, not cheating, is encouraged and is paramount to performing well in this course, particularly on the writing assignments (e.g., discussions about the sources, peer edits, etc.).

It is strongly encouraged that students work with their peers and study together outside of class to master the course content. Remember, FRIENDS DON’T LET FRIENDS FAIL!

Taskstream
Taskstream is a tool that Prairie View A&M University uses for assessment purposes. At least one of a student’s assignments is REQUIRED to be submitted as an "artifact," an item of coursework that serves as evidence that course objectives are met. More information will be provided during the semester, but for general information, students can visit Taskstream via the link in Canvas. One of a student’s source evaluations will be used for this purpose.

AT ANY POINT DURING THE SEMESTER, THE SYLLABUS IS SUBJECT TO CHANGE BY THE PROFESSOR.

University Rules and Procedures

Academic Misconduct (See Student Planner)
You are expected to practice academic honesty in every aspect of this course and all other courses. Make sure you are familiar with your Student Planner, especially the section on academic misconduct (see University Administrative Guidelines on Academic Integrity). Students who engage in academic misconduct are subject to university disciplinary procedures. As listed in the PVAMU Undergraduate Catalog, Graduate Catalog, and the Student Planner, the following are examples of prohibited conduct. This list is not designed to be all-inclusive or exhaustive. In addition to academic sanctions, any student found to have committed or to have attempted to commit the following academic misconduct may also be subject to disciplinary review and action as outlined in the PVAMU Student Planner.

Forms of Academic Dishonesty:
1. Cheating: Deception in which a student misrepresents that he/she has mastered information on an academic exercise that he/she has not learned, giving or receiving aid unauthorized by the instructor on assignments or examinations. Examples: unauthorized use of notes for a test; using a “cheat sheet” on a quiz or exam; any alteration made on a graded test or exam which is then resubmitted to the teacher.

2. Plagiarism: Careless or deliberate use of the work or the ideas of another; representation of another’s work, words, ideas, or data as your own without permission or appropriate acknowledgment. Examples: copying another’s paper or answers, failure to identify information or essays from the Internet and submitting or representing it as your own; submitting an assignment which has been partially or wholly done by another and claiming it as yours; not properly acknowledging a source which has been summarized or paraphrased in your work; failure to acknowledge the use of another’s words with quotation marks.

3. Multiple Submission: Submission of work from one course to satisfy a requirement in another course without explicit permission. Example: using a paper prepared and graded for credit in one course to fulfill a requirement and receive credit in a different course.

4. Conspiracy: Agreeing with one or more persons to commit an act of academic/scholastic dishonesty.

5. Fabrication of Information/Forgery: Use or submission of contrived, invented, forged, or altered information in any assignment, laboratory exercise, or test; tampering with or production of a counterfeit document, particularly documents which make up the student’s academic record. Examples: making up a source or citing nonexistent publication or article; representing made up data as real for an experiment in a science laboratory class; forging a change of grade or student withdrawal record; falsifying any document related to a student academic exercise.

Nonacademic Misconduct (See Student Planner)
The University respects the rights of instructors to teach and students to learn. Maintenance of these rights requires campus conditions that do not impede their exercise. Campus behavior that interferes with either (1) the instructor’s ability to conduct the class, or (2) the ability of students to benefit from the instructional program, or (3) the rights of others will not be tolerated. An individual engaging in such disruptive behavior may be subject to disciplinary action. Such incidents will be adjudicated by the Office for Student Conduct under nonacademic procedures.

Sexual Misconduct
Sexual harassment of students and employees at Prairie View A&M University is unacceptable and will not be tolerated. Any member of the university community violating the university’s sexual harassment policy will be subject to disciplinary action. In accordance with the Texas A&M University System guidelines, your instructor is obligated to report to the Office of Title IX Compliance (titleixteam@pvamu.edu) any instance of sexual misconduct involving a student, which includes sexual assault, stalking, dating violence, domestic violence, and sexual harassment, about which the instructor becomes aware during this course through writing, discussion, or personal disclosure. The faculty and staff of PVAMU actively strive to provide a learning, working, and living environment that promotes respect that is free from sexual misconduct, discrimination, and all forms of violence. If students, faculty, or staff would like assistance, or have questions, they may contact the Title IX Coordinator at 936-261-2144 or titleixteam@pvamu.edu. More information can be found at the Title IX Webpage including confidential resources available on campus.

Pregnancy, Pregnancy-related, and Parenting Accommodations
Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 prohibits sex discrimination, which includes discrimination based on pregnancy, marital status, or parental status. Students seeking accommodations related to pregnancy, pregnancy-related condition, or parenting (reasonably immediate postpartum period) are encouraged to contact Student Disability Services or the Dean of Students’ Office for additional information and to request accommodations. More information can be found at this webpage.

Non-Discrimination Statement
Prairie View A&M University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, sex, religion, national origin, age, disability, genetic information, veteran status, sexual orientation or gender identity in its programs and activities. The University is committed to supporting students and complying with the Texas A&M University System non-discrimination policy. It seeks to establish an environment that is free of bias, discrimination, and harassment. If you experience an incident of discrimination or harassment, we encourage you to report it. If you would like to speak with someone who may be able to afford you privacy or confidentiality, there are individuals who can meet with you. The Director of Equal Opportunity & Diversity has been designated to handle inquiries regarding the non-discrimination policies, and can be reached at Harrington Science Building, Suite 109 or by phone 936-261-1744 or 1792.

Class Attendance Policy (See Catalog for Full Attendance Policy)
Prairie View A&M University requires regular class attendance. Attending all classes supports full academic development of each learner whether classes are taught with the instructor physically present or via distance learning technologies such as interactive video and/or internet. Excessive absenteeism, whether excused or unexcused, may result in a student's course grade being reduced or in assignment of a grade of “F”. Absences are accumulated beginning with the first day of class during regular semesters and summer terms. Each faculty member will include the University’s attendance policy in each course syllabus.

Student Academic Appeals Process
Authority and responsibility for assigning grades to students rests with the faculty. However, in those instances where students believe that miscommunication, errors, or unfairness of any kind may have adversely affected the instructor’s assessment of their academic performance, the student has a right to appeal by the procedure listed in the University Catalog and by doing so within thirty days of receiving the grade or experiencing any other problematic academic event that prompted the complaint. Students can file Academic Complaints and/or Grade Appeals at this webpage.

Emails or discussion postings will receive a response from the instructor, usually in less than 48 hours. Urgent emails should be marked as such. Check regularly for responses.

Discussion Requirement
Online courses often require minimal to no face-to-face meetings. However, conversations about the readings, lectures, materials, and other aspects of the course can take place in a seminar fashion. This will be accomplished by the use of the discussion board. The exact use of discussion will be determined by the instructor.

It is strongly suggested that students type their discussion postings in a word processing application such as Word and save it to their PC or a removable drive before posting to the discussion board. This is important for two reasons: 1) If for some reason your discussion responses are lost in your online course, you will have another copy; 2) Grammatical errors can be greatly minimized by the use of the spell-and-grammar check functions in word processing applications. Once the post(s) have been typed and corrected in the word processing application, copy and paste to the discussion board.

COVID-19 Campus Safety Measures [NOTE: Delete this section when the COVID-19 pandemic is over]
To promote public safety and protect students, faculty, and staff during the COVID-19 pandemic, Prairie View A&M University has adopted policies and practices for the Fall 2020 academic term to limit virus transmission. Students must observe the following practices while participating in face-to-face courses and course-related activities (office hours, help sessions, transitioning to and between classes, study spaces, academic services, etc.):

- Self-monitoring - Students should follow CDC recommendations for self-monitoring. Students who have a fever or exhibit symptoms of COVID-19 should participate in class remotely and should not participate in face-to-face instruction.

- Face Coverings - Face coverings (cloth face covering, surgical mask, etc.) must be properly worn in all non-private spaces including classrooms, teaching laboratories, common spaces such as lobbies and hallways, public study spaces, libraries, academic resource and support offices, and outdoor spaces where 6 feet of physical distancing is difficult to reliably maintain.

- Physical Distancing - Physical distancing must be maintained between students, instructors, and others in course and course-related activities.

- Classroom Ingress/Egress - Students must follow marked pathways for entering and exiting classrooms and other teaching spaces. Students should leave classrooms promptly after course activities have concluded, should not congregate in hallways and should maintain 6-foot physical distancing when waiting to enter classrooms and other instructional spaces.

- Face-to-face Class - To attend a face-to-face class, students must wear a face covering (or a face shield if they have an exemption letter). If a student refuses to wear a face covering, the instructor should ask the student to leave and join the class remotely. If the student does not leave the class, the faculty member should report that student to the Office for Student Conduct for adjudication. Additionally, the faculty member may choose to teach that day’s class remotely for all students.

- COVID-19 Guidelines for Student Conduct Adjudication - The mandatory COVID-19 Training/Certification taken by all students serves as the 1st Warning for violation of COVID-19 Guidelines.
  - 1st incident: upon review of Incident Report and finding of responsibility — Conduct Probation
  - 2nd incident: upon review of Incident Report and finding of responsibility — Suspension
Consult the Code of Student Conduct in the Student Planner or Student Conduct website for additional information on Conduct Probation and Suspension.

- Personal Illness and Quarantine - Students required to quarantine must participate in courses and course-related activities remotely and must not attend face-to-face course activities. Students should notify their instructors of the quarantine requirement. Students under quarantine are expected to participate in courses and complete graded work unless they have symptoms that are too severe to participate in course activities. Students experiencing personal injury or illness that is too severe for the student to attend class qualify for an excused absence. To receive an excused absence, students must provide appropriate documentation to the Office for Student Conduct, studentconduct@pvamu.edu.
